

Quality standards in ERASMUS + mobility projects

0 costs and additional support to participants with fewer opportunities

- No participation fees and provided financial support for travel and other accompanying costs to all participants in need.
- Provided additional educational programs (e.g language courses)
- Provided support persons for participants with disabilities (accompanying person, sign language translator, etc)
- Covered health insurance and relevant costs to all participants in need (eg. parent authorization for minors, participants, additional insurance, etc)

Full involvement of the sending partner organizations and support to host partner in all the stages of the project (preparation, realization, dissemination, evaluation, and reporting).

- Having and documenting needed preparatory meetings with participants (minimum one), online or in person.
- Have additional work with youth leader to be aware of responsibilities, rights and possible challenges
- Prepare the participants to know basic information about the program and logistic requirements, as well as about the organization that they will represent
- Sending organization is a bridge of communication between participants and host organizations.
- Plan and support the travel of the group and try to organize that all participants travel together as a group.
- Dedicate at least one person to be available to host the organization during the realization of the project in case of an emergency
- Ensure that the group do all accepted responsibilities concerning dissemination, evaluation and reporting (sharing results, filling in questioners, sending all documents related to travel, etc:)

Recognized, supported, and reworded the work of sending organizations.

- Suppose the sending organization needs to support participants with travel costs and does not have its budget. In that case, the host organization will help by transferring the money to a sending partner or buying tickets.
- The sending organization will receive between 30 % and 50% of organizational costs per participant after finishing all tasks concerning dissemination, evaluation and reporting

Promoting and supporting green transport

- Participants will be motivated to use green transport and supported by the maximum amount defined by the budget that they can use for food, accommodation in case of longer traveling, etc.

Fulfilling the basic needs of the participants

- Free access to drinkable water
- Good quality and quantity of food
- Clean and safe accommodation
